Faculty position in environmental and/or energy economics

The Institute of the Environment and Sustainability at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) invites applications for a faculty position in environmental and/or energy economics.

Specifically, we seek a colleague with interests and experience in the following areas of research as they pertain to environmental and/or energy economics -- environmental valuation, environmental policy, corporate sustainability, political economy, behavioral economics, environmental health, international economics, econometrics, experimental economics.

The appointment will be in the UCLA Institute of the Environment and Sustainability (IoES) (http://www.ioes.ucla.edu/). The IoES's primary mission is to identify study and provide solutions for regional and global environmental problems, and to educate the next generation of scholars and leaders. The Institute achieves this mission through its core faculty, affiliated faculty from across UCLA, undergraduate and graduate degree programs, and interdisciplinary centers and off-campus partnerships. The IoES includes faculty in economics, Management, the health sciences, life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences, engineering, law and other disciplines. Preference will be given for candidates with demonstrated interest in working in an interdisciplinary environment. The appointment will be primarily held at the IoES, but affiliations with other campus units are possible.

Applicants will be expected to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level, advise and mentor graduate students, and contribute to graduate education, the research environment of the department and to university and professional service. The campus is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, teaching, and/or service.

RANK: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor (tenured), or Full Professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience; academic year (9-month) basis.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. or equivalent foreign degree in Economics or related field, experience in environmental and/or energy economics, and evidence of teaching and research.
POSITION AVAILABLE: July 1, 2017, with academic year beginning September 2017.

TO APPLY: Applications are accepted via the UCLA Academic Recruit online system, and must include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement and interdisciplinary experience and interests, up to three exemplary publications, and the names and contact information for four references. Applicants are invited to submit a statement addressing their past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching and/or service.

Documents/materials must be submitted as PDF files. Apply at https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF02335. Refer to Position # JPF02335 in all correspondence.

CLOSING DATE: Review of applications will begin on October 1st, 2016. To ensure full consideration, applications should be completed by November 15, 2016. The position will remain open until filled.

For additional information about the IoES or about submitting an application, contact Ms. Shahara C. Ben-Iesau (scben-iesau@ioes.ucla.edu, (310) 206-9742) or see http://www.ioes.ucla.edu/

Review of applications will begin on October 1st, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Please address any questions to Magali Delmas, Search Committee Chair, at delmas@ucla.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy. UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy: http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct

UCLA is committed to excellence through diversity and strives to establish a climate that welcomes, celebrates, and promotes respect for the contributions of all students and employees. Individuals with a history of mentoring students under-represented in the sciences are encouraged to apply and to describe their experience in a cover letter. Inquiries regarding the University's equal employment opportunity policies may be directed to: Office for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at the University of California, Los Angeles, CA 90095; (310) 206-7411.

UCLA is a smoke & tobacco-free campus.